Southeast Asia Music Leadership Initiative (SEAMLI)

A three-day certificate training program that allows you to collaborate with similarly creative and committed musicians from around the Southeast Asia region and beyond. Each day you will have keynote presentations, workshops, and case studies dedicated to specific topics. Along the way, you get first-hand experience developing skills and tools you need to be a future leader. The final day focuses on a shared platform for you to present your next music project idea to our Initiative faculty.
